

Your e-growth

Have you ever thought about selling plants and green-related products online? We can make that happen for you!

The billion-euro “green” market is shifting from offline to online, leading to staggering growth figures in online sales of both indoor and outdoor plants. Expectations for the coming years are highly positive. Consumers appreciate the effect that, having living greenery in their home and work environment, has on their level of happiness. They will increasingly buy these products online. We can put that smile on peoples’ faces – for your customers as well!

We already support a variety of market participants, from growers to retailers, all of whom face the challenge of offering living green products online and delivering them to their customers in good condition. Let us help you to serve your customers and accelerate your growth by offering them a full range of living plants online.

We take care

A scalable and efficient fulfillment process for plants is a complex operation and Bakker has a proven track record with just that. Why not benefit from over 75 years of international experience and let us take care of the fulfillment and shipping of your online orders; 100% stress-free. You do the growing, we’ll take care of the rest!

Europe’s #1 E-fulfillment company in green

We buy our products solely from carefully selected growers and we will take them from the soil to your customers in all major European markets. With a capacity of over 50,000 parcels a day, Bakker operates at scale. We offer you instant access to our great product range and product content for over 6,000 products and multiple product combinations. We know how to sell this product group online and we know how to deliver it to an international audience. Bakker e-fulfillment is Europe’s #1 e-fulfillment company in the green sector!

